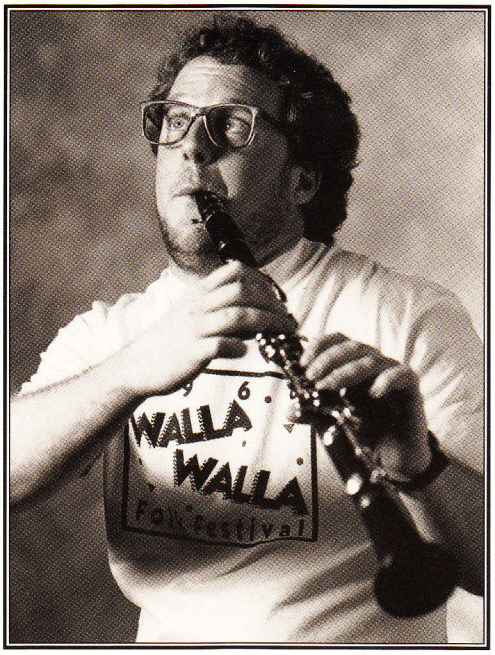
WANTED



Phil
R. Yup

Phil R. Yup

OCCUPATION

STREET MUSICIAN AND ONE-MAN BAND

DESCRIPTION

Phil was born into a family of sousaphone players from Walla Walla, Washington. Discovered by Carmen when he crashed the half-time show at the Rose Bowl, the red-haired music man joined Sandiego's gang to provide entertainment and diversion during capers. Phil is tone-deaf, so when he performs on the pennywhistle, mandolin, and bass drum, the racket drives away any possible witnesses to the heist. When not on the job, Phil relaxes by wrestling with his pet crocodile, Noodles.
